Etiquette. There are many opportunities to display proper etiquette throughout a dive trip. Be on time for the boat, open minded about the dive site destination, listening (not talking) during the dive brief, having your equipment properly stowed (not scattered all over the boat), use of the proper rinse bucket, [photographers] not letting your camera dominate everyone's dive, and of importance to the hard-working dive staff, tipping appropriately. Tipping serves as a way to show your appreciation and acknowledge good service. It's customary to tip the dive guides and crew members. On average, consider tipping $5-10.00 per tank. Remember, good tipping etiquette ensures a positive experience.

THIS YEAR'S ANNUAL MID-WEEK PARTY RAISES THE DEAD. WE HAD MANY EXCITING AND VARIED THEME CHOICES, COURTESY OF MANY OF YOU. ALL WERE GOOD. THE MOST SUGGESTIONS WERE A "HALLOWEEN PARTY". So...

On the night when the veil between worlds is thinnest, join us for a spine-chilling Halloween party that will haunt your dreams! On September 25, from 7 PM until the witching hour, our cursed abode will be teeming with sinister spirits, and fiendish feasts. Come clad in your most horrifying costume and brace yourself for a night of bone-chilling terror. Whether you're a vampire, Vampirella, zombie, or specter, there's a place for every creature of the night, sexy or scary, at our dreadful gathering. Beware, only the bravest souls will survive this night of fright.
